The total number of children of school age in the district last year was 419.

We were pleased to receive a call today from Pony Chilson, of East Verde, and J. P. Hough, of Pine, two of the oldest and best known residents of Northern Gila county. Mr. Chilson lived here for several years, having come here in 1877. Mr. Hough settled on Pine creek twenty years ago when there were only two houses in that neighborhood, and he has lived there continuously ever since. The gentlemen are here as witnesses before the grand jury.

An explosion of gasoline occurred last Tuesday forenoon, in a small shed enclosing the gasoline engine at the top of the Hoosier incline. The shed, which caught fire and was burned, was separated by only a few feet from the warehouse, and a serious fire was averted only through the prompt action of the company employees, and the fact that there was an abundant water supply, under good pressure, available. Bob Young, the engineer, had his moustache singed and was scared out of a year's growth.

There was a fire in one of the front rooms on the second floor of the Roberts building, last Sunday morning at 12:30 o'clock, caused by a curtain coming in contact with a lamp. The damage amounted to $45, which was promptly settled by Edward Weck, agent for the company in which the building was insured.

George Koster was severely hurt in the Hoosier shaft last Sunday afternoon. He was working at the bottom of the shaft, when a block of wood fell from the cage, 300 feet above, and struck Koster on top of the head, cutting through a heavy rubber hat, and laying the scalp open four inches in length. Koster was leaning forward, shoveling, and the block struck his head at an angle, cutting the scalp without injuring the skull. Had it struck him squarely, the services of an undertaker would have been required instead of a surgeon. Koster is out of the hospital and mending rapidly.

Peter Simon, a well known miner, died at 2:30 o'clock this morning in the county hospital. Nearly two years ago he was injured by a fall in a mine, from which he never fully recovered. Deceased was a native of Austria and about 53 years of age. He had resided here a number of years and was a good citizen. During his last illness he received attention from several of his acquaintances, George G. Stephens having been especially kind to him. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at half past one o'clock, from the undertaking rooms of F. L. Jones, and will be conducted by Globe Miners Union of which deceased was a member.

The closing exercises of the Globe public schools, at Odd Fellows hall, on last Thursday and Friday nights, was the most successful school entertainment ever given in our town, and afforded much pleasure to the parents of the scholars and those of our citizens who take an interest in the school, as all should. The programme on both evenings was excellent, comprising recitations, dialogues, vocal selections and tableaux, the children acquitting themselves admirably, and reflecting credit on their teachers who had labored assiduously to make the entertainment a success. There is nothing which should be a source of greater pride in a community than good schools, and in the matter of education Globe is not behind any other town in Arizona.

M. J. Fuller, who is serving as a member of the grand jury, informs us that Pine settlement was never more prosperous than it is at present. Crops promise to be large, especially the hay and apple crops, and stock is in fine fix. A frost at Pine last Saturday night nipped the potato vines. Mr. Fuller informs us that there is a good deal of complaint against the Indians, who pass back and forth between the reservation and Verde valley, for horse stealing, and his statement is confirmed by other visitors here from that section. Seven or eight head of horses have been stolen from settlers during the past few months. The agent at San Carlos should see to it that the Indians are kept on the reservation where they belong.

PURE WATER.

The Pinal Mountain Water Company

Will Solve the Problem for Globe.

On Tuesday last, in company with Thos. A. Pascoe, president of the Pinal Mountain Water company, we visited the site of the proposed catchment reservoir, three miles south of Globe, from which point it is proposed to pipe water into town. The location was well chosen just below where two gulches converge, and mingle underground streams of pure mountain water.

The work of developing was begun a week ago last Saturday; a well was sunk in the middle of the channel and the water level was reached at a depth of seven feet. Having determined the depth of the water level, the force of men were started on the work of digging a trench 700 feet long, to tap the proposed reservoir at a depth of 15 feet, and which will serve to drain the ground while excavating for the reservoir is in progress.

The prospect well will be filled up and the well to serve for permanent use will be sunk on the north bank of the wash out of reach of the flood waters. From the bottom of this well, which will be 20 feet deep, drifts will be run across the channel and a retaining wall put in, and well cemented. This should insure eight or nine feet of water in the reservoir, which can be excavated to any desired size.

A six-inch pipe will convey the water to the end of the 700-foot cut, where a cut off valve will be put in to gauge the flow, and the volume of water will determine the size of pipe to be used from that point to town. The pipe line, which will be two feet under the surface of the ground, will cross the wash only once and will continue down the south bank, crossing Pinal creek above the Redman slaughter house and thence on the south side of the valley, terminating at the present location of the Winters & Star water tanks, where a brick reservoir will be constructed, from which a system of pipes will distribute the water to every part of the town. It will be a gravity system entirely, and therefore very economical. The catchment reservoir, will be about 100 feet higher than the receiving reservoir.

The initial work will be finished within two weeks, and the company expect to have the entire system completed by August 1.

The enterprise is one of the most important that has yet been undertaken for Globe, and beside promising an abundant supply of water, will be a large factor in conserving the health of the community.

Hot and cold baths at Towle's barber shop.

High Standards.

The bird would never have uttered: "Music bath charms," etc., had he heard the rasping sounds emanating from the "thump boxes" and "hysteria-generating" rackets that are being peddled off on the uninitiated as first class pianos. They are gotten up with pretty engraved exterior cases to catch the unwary, but they will not stand this climate over three summers. You will make no mistake in selecting the famous "Behr Bros." "Kranich & Bach," "Chickering," "Waldorf" or "Mason & Hamlin" pianos, all high standards and sold at $350 and up, by

A. REDEWILL & SONS, Phoenix Music Store.
